The Location of the Capital-Consider-We took leave of the capital question sterday, after showing that the patronge of the State at the seat of government of the state of the state of the specific state at the seat of government of the state of the specific state of the specific state of the state of the state of the state of the specific st of the town or city wherein it may be located. We beg to suggest to our high expectations. Let us fry to appreciate the fact that the Government of the little State of West Virginia is a very plain and unpretending affair.

And "the world" being "too much governed," in general, it is not desirable that the machinery of democratic legislation is to be preserved. As a gengovernment in a little commonwealth eral proposition this may be true, but government in a little commonwealth like ours should be anything but simple and inexpensive. It is better that the money which our people may be able (but would hardly be willing) to pay to support more grandeur, should be applied to more practical and beneficial uses. While the machinery of our State Government is adequate to regulate the domestic concerns of our young commonwealth, it naturally possesses no great attraction for our own people, much less for strangers. Do crowds of people flock here because Wednesday, Dec. 6.

With McComes, Baltimore; A. L. Hoult, Fairwont, W. Va., Juo Kline, Philadelphia; Wm. Prinadelphia, and Pennsylvania movements are making to remove the capitals from Albany to New York City and from Harrisburg to Philadelphia, because these larger cities are the more convenient for the State at large, being more central in point of communication, although less of people flock here because Without and Willer and Willer and Commonwealth, it naturally possesses no great attraction for our own people, much less for strangers. Do crowds of people flock here because Wheeling is the Capital of West Virginia?

Do they rush to the capital and the commonwealth of the people for many years, and we are not through the surface of the capital and the commonwealth of the commonwealth of the capital and the capital and the commonwealth of the capital and the capital an throng the galleries, even when the Legislature is in session?

Do wealthy people come here and build on the other hand it certainly refine residences—do Eastern capitalists lay out railroads terminating here—do others erect great mills and manufacto-ries—or others build fine storehouses. and fill them with magnificent stocks—
or others start new lines of steamers radiating from and converging to this point—do great metropolitan spring up as they have done in Chicago and St. Louis—or street rallways line every thoroughfare—or do all the other day antages of banks as connectgreat enterprises that combine to make a city, centre in or upon Wheeling, benot. Why should they for such reasons? Whatever elements of greatness Wheel-ing attracts and is destined to in future, will depend on very different causes. Let it not be said, this is true because Wheeling is only the temporary Capital, and that only when the Capital is located permanently will it attract and combine these elements of greatness We reply that for these the mere Capi-

Remove the seat of Government, and it would be speedily after showing that the patronous and should have restant anywhere. Remove the seat of Government, and it would be speedily after showing that the patronous statement of Washington, where more millions of Washington, where more millions are.

Hall's Journal of Health expresses the opinion that buckwheat cakes contain more nourishment for less money than any other popular article of food.

The Boston Herald insists that we are about to realize a great reduction in the prices of the necessaries of life. A great can be opinion that buckwheat cakes contain more nourishment for less money than any other popular article of food.

The Boston Herald insists that we are about to realize a great reduction in the transportation. If this is all that could be made of Washington, where more millions yesterday, after showing that the patron-age of the State at the seat of governgether imperceptible in permanent in-fluence on the progress and prosperity can we reasonably expect a mere cani-quires no argument or recitation of facts in detail, to show that in practical business convenience, a city of at least the magnitude of Wheeling offers decipoint—do great metropolitan papers is of little importance to the city, but the ed with the financial business in the Auditor's and Treasurer's offices, in the prompt execution of printing, especialcause it is the capital of the Seat of Government of West Virginia? Certainly ly when the Legislature is in session, and the furnishing of books and blanks to the departments. This work cannot be done in a small town unless the State incurs the expense of a large establishment of its own-at an expens ten times as great as the cost work done by a city establishment kept up by other business. Then the conveniences of decent hotels, boarding uses, etc., for the officials, for the Legislature, and for persons visiting the Capital on business, are worth con sidering. Probably if the Capital should be located at a place like Buckhannon or Braxton, or even Weston or Clarksburg, the streets would be so muddy that the officials and legislators would have to wade, in bad weather, from their lodgings to the Capitol, unless they appropriated money and made pavements at the expense of the State. If it happened that the point selected possessed other elements of growth, these deficiencies could be supplied in ne woods, twenty or thirty miles i railroads, both because it is more ssible and because the transaction ces at all if there are no compensating

We all look forward to a time who stone. The same is equally true of the the resources of the State will be so demembers of the Legislature. It really | veloped by the intelligent industry of suits their convenience better to come a greatly increased population, that we to Wheeling than to go to some little shall have large towns and cities at out-of-the-way place where they have many points; but this is anywhere no other business, and as their mileage a gradual work; and struggling as we amounts to more than their traveling are still under a load of prejudices expenses, the distance is not a consideration. The fact is they can come to which accomplishes such magnificent Wheeling from either Parkersburg results in the new States of the North wheeling from either Parkersburg results in the new States of the Northmand Harper's Ferry in less time and vastly more pleasantly than they could do by a blind and unrelenting monopogo to Buckhannon, or Weston, or Braxton C. Sacramento with San Francisco, Augusta with Portland and Bangor, in Maine, and others that might be named. In two or three States, as Indiana and Massachusetts, and Yirginia, the capitals are the chief cities, but in every such case it will be found the result is due to purely commercial reasons. These examples go far to show that mailties are the chief cities, begin, what they are and how they may be supplied. The mere question of locating the Seatof Government sinks into insignificance in comparison with the profound reasons. These examples go far to show that political centres are not necessarily, and indeed are very seldom, commercial centres. Washington City affords the most palpable example of what can (or rather cannot) be made of what can (or rather cannot) be made of of greatness will surely seek us out. what can (or rather cannot) be indue of our greatines will surely seek us out, a political centre when it has no commercial advantages.
